REFUSED DRIVER, SON AIDS MAYOR

Refused by the council yesterday in his effort to secure passage of an ordinance providing him again with a private chauffeur, Mayor John L. Davis this morning turned his official automobile over to his son, Fred Davis, who drove for him during the days before his private chauffeur was authorized.

The present arrangement will be only temporary, the mayor stated today, as his son will leave soon for Los Angeles, and he will then carry out his threat to the council yesterday and hire his own driver, paying his salary out of his own pocket.

In a further statement this morning Mayor Davis said that his son, Frederick Soderberg and W. H. Edwards, who drove for him yesterday on the ordinance introduced by Commissioner W. J. Iacuss, creating the position of chauffeur in the mayor's office, according to the mayor, the purpose of his council opponents in having the municipal chauffeur drive for him is to have a spy in the mayor's office.

"The attitude of the commissioners opposing my request for a chauffeur is a sad criticism against the city," said the mayor. "I want my car to be at the disposal of civic bodies all the time so that visitors can be taken about the city. I feel that I can do the city some good with my car in that way. But I cannot do it without a driver at my disposal all of the time. In blocking my request, Commissioners Soderberg and Edwards are hardly working for the city's good."

TRUCK LOAD OF CLARET SEIZED

SAN JOSE, May 15.—Local officers today discovered a San Francisco trucking supply station and arrested five men, three of them San Franciscans, and confiscated nearly 1000 gallons of wine being shipped by truck to San Francisco.

The raid was conducted by Sheriff George Lyle. The arrests were made at Morgan Hill, 15 miles south of San Jose.

The five men arrested and charged with violation of the national prohibition act were Joseph Luteranelli, 29; John Lazzarini, 32, and August Angeli, all of San Francisco, and Peter Logarini and Sam Garbaria of San Jose.

Logarini is the owner of a winery at Morgan Hill. The wine which he said to be first class was brought from his winery, officers said, and was being transported by two trucks, which were also confiscated.

Officers lay hiding on both sides of the State highway the best part of the night and caught the men about 2 a. m. They will be turned over to the Federal authorities.

HOLY GHOST FETE ON AT LIVERMORE

LIVERMORE, May 15.—The annual Holy Ghost festival began here today and will continue Sunday, under the auspices of Consello Don Carlos, No. 6, I. D. P. S. There will be a parade at 7 p. m., followed by fireworks and a band concert at I. D. P. S. park, and a grand ball at the pavilion. On Sunday there will be a procession at 10 a. m. to St. Michael's church, and at 12 m. to the park, where a luncheon banquet will be served free to all.

In the afternoon there will be an auction sale of offerings and dancing. The queen of the festival this year will be Miss Rose Davina. A large crowd of visitors from far and near is expected.

Born near Livermore, May 12, 1920, to the wife of Manuel M. S. Silva, a son.

Seventy-five children from St. Agnes Academy in Stockton came here yesterday by automobile under the guidance of Rev. Father McDough and picnicked at Cresta Blanca.

High Students Give An Operatic Comedy

ALAMEDA, May 15.—Marinello, an operatic comedy, written and produced by Gordon McFahon, Alameda high school student, was given last night as part of the annual "Senior play" of the senior class. The play was produced by Miss Helen Malatesta, a faculty member, and a group of students, and a selection of dances by Miss Barbara Babanks. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra, directed by Arthur S. S. S.

Girls Will Hold Up Motorists; Sorority to Aid Salvation Drive

Fair Workers Sell Doughnuts on Streets to Swell Maternity Home Fund

As a week-end feature of the ten-day drive of the Salvation Army to raise a fund of $50,000 for the construction of a new rescue home for girls in the county, girls of the Omega Nu sorority are selling 10,000 doughnuts on the downtown streets of Oakland today.

Tomorrow they will assume the places of the traffic "cops" and stop motorists on both sides of the State highway the best part of the night and caught the men about 2 a. m. They will be turned over to the Federal authorities.

Visitors Hail Oakland as New York of the Pacific

A prediction that Oakland is to be the Pacific Coast what New York is to the Atlantic and Chicago to the Middle States was voiced yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon given to forty-three visiting Chicago business men and twenty-five representatives of Latin American countries.

The meeting was in the nature of a welcoming reception to the visitors and preceded an afternoon of sight-seeing, during which the hundreds of Westerners and South Americans were shown the industrial area of Oakland as well as the scenic beauties of the Skyline Boulevard and the residential section.

Former Governor George C. Pardee, as presiding officer, Mayor John L. Davis, John P. Hovaland and George M. Spangler of Chicago, and Charles H. Berni, representing the Latin-Americans, were the speakers.

It was Hovaland who voiced the Chicago belief in Oakland's future.

"Welcome, gentlemen," he said, "to the Orient which New York is to the Atlantic shipping. It is the logical thing," he said, "after he had responded to the words of welcome from Pardee and from Mayor John L. Davis."

George M. Spangler, who is manager of the convention bureau of the Chicago Association of Commerce, spoke of the welcome given the Chicago men in every city of California.

"It was when we got to the city," he said, "and were met by a group of your citizens, and when a group of your citizens, and when a group of your citizens, that we realized the Chicago had come true. We had."

Three Points Bid for Next Club Federation Convention

SACRAMENTO, May 15.—Yosemite, Santa Cruz and San Luis Obispo bid for the 1921 convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. San Joaquin valley district extended the invitation to meet at Camp Curry on the opening day, and has taken consistently to obtain the conference since. Account-moderators for 1100 delegates are promised. Santa Cruz club women were supported by telegrams from the mayor of their city offering hospitality. The convention city will be designated by the state executive board.

The four-day convention of the club women of California formally adjourned yesterday afternoon.

A resolution endorsing an anti-Japanese resolution was made by Robert T. General H. J. Lewis of the University of California last night. Protest was the speaker, with Dr. Aurelia Henry Remondet at a mass meeting which supplemented the program.

S. C. L. Conference of San Francisco, chairman of the department on international relations and an opponent of the resolution which was adopted, said on the floor of the convention, and responsibility for the club women.

"The frequency of land by Japan," he said, "is a serious matter. It is the duty of our club women to take the several hundred women. We live in the United States of America and not merely in the State of California."

"It is our duty as American citizens not to do an act which may harass the government of the United States or its position in the world. This question should be settled by"

SHRINER CARNIVAL TO OPEN MONDAY

Here is joy for the Shriners and especially those living east of the lake district, who were so loyal to their cause when the big Wortham shows were here early in April. They will have a chance to demonstrate that their district can overcome the lead made by Shriners when the shows were located at Forty-fifth street and San Pablo avenue.

Already they have won a victory. In bringing the big Wortham shows back for a second engagement in five weeks they have broken a record.

In locating them at Fifty-fourth avenue and East Fourteenth street they have won another victory.

The shows will arrive Sunday afternoon and stay Monday night. They will be busy installing themselves on the lots at Fifty-fourth avenue and East Fourteenth street to open Monday night. There they will be accessible to all street car lines in that section.

When the shows were here in April the Shriners wanted to be a part of the show. They erected a "Country Store," a novelty to them. They found not alone fun but a good investment. They got the benefit of the years of experience on the part of the show folk, so on this engagement the Shriners intend to make the "Country Store" the bright spot of the Joy Zone.

Since arriving in the bay district the Wortham shows met an incoming ship from the East Indies and were heavy buyers of this ship's load of wonders. Among these were scores of monkeys and creatures quite strange here.

Some of the size of the shows is that before they left El Paso, coming to California, they were the biggest carnival company in the world. They took on ten more cars. They increased the show family. Since they arrived here they have added several new features. The shows will open Monday night and thereafter they will be open afternoon and night.

WAS BADLY RUN DOWN FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Washburn Quickly Regained Her Strength and Flesh.

"I had gripe, followed by pneumonia. It left me with a terrible soreness in my chest, constant pain in my throat and so weak and nervous I could neither eat nor sleep. I had a chill every morning."

"One day a young man told me how Milks Emulsion had got him out of bed and built him up after he had been reduced to a skeleton and given up by the doctors. So I tried it. I have gained in strength, appetite and flesh, sleep better than I have for years, am doing all my own work again and feel like a new person."

"The beauty about Milks Emulsion is that it doesn't wear out like most things, and is so pleasant to take. It surely put new blood in my veins and I have the healthiest color I ever had."—Mrs. M. Washburn, 21 Centro, Cal.

It costs nothing to try Milks Emulsion. It will build you up more quickly, more surely than anything else.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are usually relieved in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price, $2.00 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

Reception To Be Given For Bride

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Ellis in Berkeley will be the scene of a reception this evening to be given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Ellis (Helen Moore), whose marriage was solemnized in the east the middle of last month, and Miss Margaret Ellis, who will leave soon for Arizona. A large number of cards have been sent out. Assisted by Mrs. J. H. Ellis, who will be the hostess, and Messdames Thompson Price and the Misses Louise Butler, Elizabeth Brandt, Katherine Ellis.

In honor of Miss Ann Starke, whose wedding to Vernon Leslie King of Los Angeles will take place June 3 in St. Mark's Episcopal Church, the Misses Helen and Marian McCrory will entertain at tea this afternoon at their home. The Misses McCrory and Mary Park are to be members of the bridal party.

The New Era Self Expression club held its meeting recently at the Key Route Inn when the members discussed the topic "Growth." Mrs. Ruby Wright was among the speakers. Instrumental selections were given by Miss A. S. McCloskey and vocal solos rendered by Miss B. F. Bolts and Miss J. E. Wilkey.

A meeting of the club will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Key Route Inn when "Constructive Thinking" will be the subject.

LUNCHEON AT SAN FRANCISCO HOTEL. In honor of Miss Betty Barnes and Miss Louise Howard, Miss Jean Hayes entertained this afternoon at luncheon at the San Francisco hotel.

Mrs. William Langdon has sent out cards for the afternoon of May 26, a score of guests to share her hospitality.

Mrs. Samuel Thornton will be hostess to a group of friends at luncheon at the Claremont Country Club Thursday next. Bridge will be the after diversions.

In compliment to Miss Adah Hancock, bride-elect, Miss Ellen Thornton of Highland avenue, Piedmont, gave a shower recently for twenty of the college classmates of the honor guest. Miss Hancock is the betrothed of Arthur H. Leonard of Sacramento.

DANCE FOR SCHOOL SET

About sixty of the school set will be guests this evening at a dance to be given by Miss Alberta Clark at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Clark, in Park street, Alameda.

Members of the graduating class of Alameda school were entertained by Miss Mary Wilson at their annual banquet Thursday evening when nearly a hundred of the Alumnae were in attendance. The following were graduated this year: Ruth McBride, Eloise N. Roberts, Roberta Holmes, Kate Cutler, Kathleen Grady, Phyllis Graham, Caroline Horner, Caroline Keister, Dorothy Perkins, Anne Leonard, Felicia Melkie, Harriet Pomeroy, Ramona Schacht, Katherine Frohman, Rebecca Gray, Joseph Nash, Esther Robbins, Carolyn Rodolph and Elizabeth Jacob.

BARES WRONGS AGAINST DEAD IN SALVATION DRIVE

SACRAMENTO, May 15.—The remorse of a man who wronged and then abandoned a young girl, and a mother who neglected her five-year-old son, when he learned that she became the mother of his child, a boy who died on the battlefield of France, is recounted in a letter received by Joseph Knowles, manager of a local home service campaign of the Salvation Army.

The letter, signed "J. B. K." is as follows:

Dear Sirs: Here is $2. all I got, but I want you to have it. This is part money I ought to give the Salvation Army. This girl was picked up by them. I didn't know it. The boy, my son, was killed in France then I find out by the dead list and write to the war department. She gave him my name. She is dead, too, now. I give you all I can. Put this where girls are helped out. I repeat. J. B. K.

County Bee Keepers to Hold Convention

The Alameda County Bee Keepers' Association in co-operation with the University of California will hold a convention on May 21 and 22, and 23, at the open Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Hilgard hall at Berkeley, and on the following afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the delegates will meet at the home of Cary W. Hartman.

What's Tomorrow

Fathers' Night Feature for Church Here

Fathers' and Young Men's Night will be observed at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, when Dr. Frank M. Slesley will preach on the subject, "Fathers as Fathers."

Are young men today proud of their fathers? Are fathers thinking of their sons? The church is planning a revival today among the fathers and young men.

Walter E. Kennedy, organist and choir director, has arranged a wonderful program of music from the Russian composers for Sunday evening.

In the spiritual clinic Dr. Slesley will answer the following questions: "Do you really love your father?" "Do you really love your mother?" "Do you really love your children?"

On Sunday evening at the Fruitvale M. E. church Bill Stinger and his team will have charge of the service. They have been holding meetings at the church for the past week and have been successful in winning many souls.

SIMPLICITY OF THE GOSPEL
None Need Err Therein
By DR. JAMES E. TALMAGE
Of the Council of the Twelve, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Note: For free copies of other articles of this series, send request to the author.

Salvation of the soul consists essentially in the attainment of a state of blessedness beyond the grave, and therefore comprises immunity from the penalties incident to condemnation. Both salvation and condemnation involve graded conditions, or degrees, every soul receiving according to his faith and works.

Our individual status in the hereafter, both during the period of disembodiment and in the resurrection from bodily death, will be determined by the record of our earthly life, which will be fully declared by what we actually are. In the judgment of souls conflict of testimony or evidence will be impossible. Every fact bearing upon our condition of worthiness or guilt, of cleanliness through righteousness or defilement through sin, will be known.

To each of these assertions the Holy Scriptures of both former and current time bear abundant and unequivocal testimony. The same high and unimpeachable authority, embodying the very words of Divine decree, declares that only by obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is salvation in the Kingdom of God possible unto man.

Consider the fundamental rule, which is baptism. The words of the Christ to the timid but truth-seeking rabbi of Jerusalem are as free from ambiguity as language makes possible. "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God." (John 3:5).

This solemn affirmation was made to Nicodemus at the time of great excitement and controversy in Judea and neighboring provinces over the activities of John the Baptist, who was boldly preaching the necessity of baptism at his own hands as of one having particular authority, and who was administering baptism to multitudes of repentant sinners.

The crucified and resurrected Christ left this parting command and commission with the Apostles: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost" (Matt. 28:19); and further declared: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark 16:16).

Could Scripture be simpler or plainer? Without baptism administered by the requisite authority, salvation in the Kingdom of God is impossible. The Word of God is void. But baptism to be effective must be preceded by repentance of sin. When unrepentant sinners came to John the zealous Baptist denounced them in stinging epithets as a "generation of vipers" and laid upon them the condition to make themselves acceptable by bringing forth fruits meet for repentance.

But repentance of sin in humility and contrition, with the earnest purpose and sincere desire of making amends for offenses done and thereby to become reconciled with and acceptable to God, one must have unqualified trust and faith in Him. The basal principles and fundamental ordinances of the Gospel, through which alone the saving efficacy of the Atonement wrought by Jesus Christ is made certain to the penitent individual, are ranged in the following order as the Scriptures prescribe: (1) Faith in God the Eternal Father, and in His Son Jesus Christ as the Redeemer and Savior of humankind, and in the Holy Ghost; (2) repentance in full purpose of heart—active, vital repentance that shall lead and impel to good works and renunciation of sin; (3) baptism by immersion in water; and (4) bestowal of the Holy Ghost through the laying on of hands—both ordinances being administered by men duly authorized to officiate by ordination to the Holy Priesthood.

FIRST BAPTIST HAS POPULAR SERMON TOPIC

The sermon to be preached at the First Baptist Church of Oakland tomorrow evening will deal with a theme that is engaging the attention of the leading religious organizations and churches of our city today. Rev. John Snaps's subject will be "The City and the Church."

At the morning service Dr. Snaps's subject will be "The Compassion of Jesus Toward a Wayward World." The attention of the public is especially called to the special Sunday service which will be held at an established part of the regular program.

PLYMOUTH PROGRAM
At Plymouth Congregational Church the pastor, Rev. Charles L. Kloss, will have for his subject at the morning service "Recreation Through Worship."

In the evening he will have a series of four paragraphs on the following subjects: "Anti-Japanese Agitation—Facts vs. Prejudice," "The Eighteenth Amendment—What is the Spirit?" "The Church and the State," and "The Church and the World."

The meeting of the Plymouth Men's Club Tuesday evening scores great success. R. H. Glissman entertained. The main address was given by Supt. of the city, Mr. J. W. H. Hall.

On Saturday morning in Plymouth Center, Reading Room, Mrs. G. W. Ranta will entertain boys and girls with readings and story telling from 10 to 11 o'clock. All children from six to twelve years old invited.

BENEFIT CONCERT
Mrs. Henry Werthebe of East Fourteenth and Fruitvale avenues will open her spacious home on Tuesday, May 18, for the benefit of the Fruitvale Avenue Congregational church. People from both sides of the bay will assemble to participate in and enjoy a concert of vocal and instrumental music.

A large number of people will be present. Those wishing reservations can phone Mrs. Werthebe at Fruitvale 554.

The admission charge of 50 cents will include refreshments as well as the concert. Tickets will be given by Mrs. Ellen Altmeyer, Pigott, 4000 Broadway, and Mrs. Marion Nickerson, 1015 15th St.

The man of thoughtful mind and contrite heart cannot fail to find inexpressible comfort and profound cause for devout thanksgiving and praise through contemplating God's infinite mercy in having made so simple and easy these indispensable conditions of salvation. Had the terms been such as only vast wealth could meet, or the requirements so intricate or strenuous that great physical strength or high intellectual ability were necessary to accomplish the feat of compliance, then indeed the mortal or fallen state of the race would be deplorable beyond conception; and, without justice, would be eliminated from the category of Deity's attributes. But that runs may read.

REV. REED WILL MAKE ADDRESS AT 1ST UNITARIAN

Rev. Clarence Reed of First Unitarian Church will speak Sunday morning at 11 o'clock on "The Greatest Issue of the Age." He will discuss the problem that the priests and seers of Egypt, Babylon, Greece and India, as well as the prophets of the Jews, and the priests and ministers of the Christian Church have failed to solve.

At the morning service Dr. Reed's subject will be "The Compassion of Jesus Toward a Wayward World." The attention of the public is especially called to the special Sunday service which will be held at an established part of the regular program.

PLYMOUTH PROGRAM
At Plymouth Congregational Church the pastor, Rev. Charles L. Kloss, will have for his subject at the morning service "Recreation Through Worship."

In the evening he will have a series of four paragraphs on the following subjects: "Anti-Japanese Agitation—Facts vs. Prejudice," "The Eighteenth Amendment—What is the Spirit?" "The Church and the State," and "The Church and the World."

The meeting of the Plymouth Men's Club Tuesday evening scores great success. R. H. Glissman entertained. The main address was given by Supt. of the city, Mr. J. W. H. Hall.

On Saturday morning in Plymouth Center, Reading Room, Mrs. G. W. Ranta will entertain boys and girls with readings and story telling from 10 to 11 o'clock. All children from six to twelve years old invited.

BENEFIT CONCERT
Mrs. Henry Werthebe of East Fourteenth and Fruitvale avenues will open her spacious home on Tuesday, May 18, for the benefit of the Fruitvale Avenue Congregational church. People from both sides of the bay will assemble to participate in and enjoy a concert of vocal and instrumental music.

A large number of people will be present. Those wishing reservations can phone Mrs. Werthebe at Fruitvale 554.

The admission charge of 50 cents will include refreshments as well as the concert. Tickets will be given by Mrs. Ellen Altmeyer, Pigott, 4000 Broadway, and Mrs. Marion Nickerson, 1015 15th St.

Salvation of the soul consists essentially in the attainment of a state of blessedness beyond the grave, and therefore comprises immunity from the penalties incident to condemnation. Both salvation and condemnation involve graded conditions, or degrees, every soul receiving according to his faith and works.

Our individual status in the hereafter, both during the period of disembodiment and in the resurrection from bodily death, will be determined by the record of our earthly life, which will be fully declared by what we actually are. In the judgment of souls conflict of testimony or evidence will be impossible. Every fact bearing upon our condition of worthiness or guilt, of cleanliness through righteousness or defilement through sin, will be known.

To each of these assertions the Holy Scriptures of both former and current time bear abundant and unequivocal testimony. The same high and unimpeachable authority, embodying the very words of Divine decree, declares that only by obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is salvation in the Kingdom of God possible unto man.

Consider the fundamental rule, which is baptism. The words of the Christ to the timid but truth-seeking rabbi of Jerusalem are as free from ambiguity as language makes possible. "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God." (John 3:5).

This solemn affirmation was made to Nicodemus at the time of great excitement and controversy in Judea and neighboring provinces over the activities of John the Baptist, who was boldly preaching the necessity of baptism at his own hands as of one having particular authority, and who was administering baptism to multitudes of repentant sinners.

The crucified and resurrected Christ left this parting command and commission with the Apostles: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost" (Matt. 28:19); and further declared: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark 16:16).

Could Scripture be simpler or plainer? Without baptism administered by the requisite authority, salvation in the Kingdom of God is impossible. The Word of God is void. But baptism to be effective must be preceded by repentance of sin. When unrepentant sinners came to John the zealous Baptist denounced them in stinging epithets as a "generation of vipers" and laid upon them the condition to make themselves acceptable by bringing forth fruits meet for repentance.

But repentance of sin in humility and contrition, with the earnest purpose and sincere desire of making amends for offenses done and thereby to become reconciled with and acceptable to God, one must have unqualified trust and faith in Him. The basal principles and fundamental ordinances of the Gospel, through which alone the saving efficacy of the Atonement wrought by Jesus Christ is made certain to the penitent individual, are ranged in the following order as the Scriptures prescribe: (1) Faith in God the Eternal Father, and in His Son Jesus Christ as the Redeemer and Savior of humankind, and in the Holy Ghost; (2) repentance in full purpose of heart—active, vital repentance that shall lead and impel to good works and renunciation of sin; (3) baptism by immersion in water; and (4) bestowal of the Holy Ghost through the laying on of hands—both ordinances being administered by men duly authorized to officiate by ordination to the Holy Priesthood.

The man of thoughtful mind and contrite heart cannot fail to find inexpressible comfort and profound cause for devout thanksgiving and praise through contemplating God's infinite mercy in having made so simple and easy these indispensable conditions of salvation. Had the terms been such as only vast wealth could meet, or the requirements so intricate or strenuous that great physical strength or high intellectual ability were necessary to accomplish the feat of compliance, then indeed the mortal or fallen state of the race would be deplorable beyond conception; and, without justice, would be eliminated from the category of Deity's attributes. SHOWING THE EASTBAY.

Unusual opportunity was offered Oakland yesterday to acquaint business men of Chicago and of five Latin-American countries with the resources and possibilities of Oakland as a manufacturing, exporting and home city. The half hundred delegates from Chicago and the score from South America who attended the Chamber of Commerce luncheon and who later were driven over the Skyline boulevard and through the residence and commercial areas of the city expressed a genuine belief in the industrial future of the community. They saw Oakland through eyes not accustomed to its beauties and potentialities and were eager to express the impression that is made on the visitor who is trained to look not only for scenic wonders but for business opportunity.

It is significant that the outstanding impression made on the Chicago men was that this continental side of the bay is the logical center for the Pacific trade. "We believe," said one of their representatives, speaking for the delegation, "that Oakland is destined to be to the Orient what New York is to Atlantic shipping." In order mentioned those things which most amazed the visitors as they journeyed over the Eastbay were the roads, the schools, and the homes.

Out of the meeting the Middle Western manufacturers and financiers were given a knowledge of Oakland, its waterfront, harbor, agricultural resources, and other natural advantages and Oakland in turn was able to learn much to its advantage of the example and industry of Chicago. From the Latin-Americans came the word that for every American representative in their countries there were from twenty-five to one hundred Europeans and that the time was at hand for a vigorous trade campaign in the South. The meeting was only made possible by the fact that the Foreign Trade Council is in session in San Francisco. It was but one of the many cumulative benefits that convention is bringing to the Eastbay.

MORE GOLD AND LESS PAPER.

Restoration of the gold standard, the universal standard of stability, is needed to restore the world financial equilibrium. It is a matter of deep concern to the commercial world and one that will mean a general readjusting of credit structures.

A war that modified the currency systems of Europe has left a monetary situation that is unique. An abnormal proportion of the gold of the world is held by the United States and South American and Oriental nations. The use of credit in Europe has been developed to a high degree and yet the bank deposits of the larger nations there have increased more than one hundred per cent.

To bring about the return of the gold standard gradual steps are necessary. There must be a prevention of additional inflation, a more or less gradual reduction of the volume of outstanding currency and credit and an increase in production. Gold must be employed more effectively for money uses than in the past.

It is recognized that good money is necessary to the working of the existing industrial order and that money standards that must be reasonably uniform throughout the world should be restored. A return to the gold standard is the practical solution. There are countries, of course, not yet able to stand under a rapid deflation. The process is to be a slow one and some specie money is bound to appear as the gold is returned to monetary uses in places now on a paper basis. A greater demand for the metal will be occasioned and this country, with the others of the Western hemisphere, may expect a drain on their holdings.

In the return of the gold standard, however, it is doubtful if gold money will come back into the general circulation that was known, particularly on the Pacific Coast, before the war. It will serve in settling trade balances and its freedom of flow between monetary and commodity uses will be unimpaired. While the stocks of the metal will be held in the bank reserves it will again serve as the standard of circulating media, and be the regulator of the volume of outstanding credit.

The restoration of the gold standard is one of the post-war problems of which more is to be heard and from which much is to be expected.

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK.

Eleven of the great forest-bearing States have set aside May 23 to 29 as a week in which to impress on every citizen the necessity of preventing fire losses in wooded areas and in the rural communities, as well as in the cities. Too much emphasis cannot be given in this effort to drive home a needed lesson and California and Governor Stephens have done well to take an active part in the campaign.

The outstanding cause of forest fire losses is, of course, carelessness. A lack of the simple rules of the out-of-doors has been responsible for the destruction of thousands of acres of the trees which generations have produced. First in these rules is the one that asks the camper not only to stamp out his fire but to pour water over it and then throw earth over all of the embers. One spark left may be fanned to a blaze hours or days after the camper has departed and there is, thus, no way to place the responsibility for the crime.

The proclamation of Governor Stephens is one to be taken to heart by every citizen of the State. It reads:

"Whereas, fire annually devastates large forest areas; lays waste many thousands of dollars of pastures, hay, grain, and other crops, destroys rural, town, and city improvements, thus adding greatly to the economic burden of the people of California;

"Now, therefore, in conformity with action taken in other Pacific Coast States, and in order to emphasize the importance of protecting our forests, crops and improvements from the ravages of fires, I do hereby declare the week, May 23 to 29, 1920, as Forest Protection and Fire Prevention Week, and trust that during this week all persons will realize the necessity of being careful with fire and will adopt as their slogan, 'Help Prevent Fire.'"

Various organizations of city and country life have been asked to give their support to the campaign and fire prevention losses will be taught in the schools.

At a time when the fire prevention thought is to be placed most strongly on the minds of the public there is being distributed by some of the largest timber-holding corporations pamphlets which, in their possibilities, are vicious. They advocate the burning off of underbrush and forest floors and in so advocating spread the idea that such practices are commendable and to be defended. There is nothing that will do more to aid in the growth of carelessness. Those who have the interests of the State at heart, who love the forests, and who would see their perpetuation for their intrinsic wealth and their natural beauty will fight this propaganda and will with renewed zeal try to offset it.

What is needed to prevent fire is the lesson of precaution. The easy carelessness must be supplanted by a psychology of carefulness.

How are we to view this proposal to transfer the Zeppelin airship factory to this country? The allies interdict the industry in Germany because it is not desirable that that country shall equip itself with aerial fleets; but this contingency will not certainly be avoided if they are permitted to manufacture here. When an airship that has been constructed in the United States sets sail it can fetch up in Germany, and the fact that it was built here would not seem to operate for the protection of any country that may be in fear of a renewal of the German raids. At least, that is the way it looks upon a cursory view. The question raised would seem to suggest the desirability of international laws on the subject, if all interests are not safeguarded already. No way should be open by which Germany might defeat the purpose to keep her powerless to repeat the murderous assault upon the world.

An old question comes up again in the protest of so-called Confederate organizations against the exclusion of the names of General Robert L. Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson from the list carved on the marble columns of the Memorial Amphitheater in Arlington National Cemetery, authorized by Congress to commemorate American heroes. More than half a century having elapsed since the Civil War ended, and the two sections having been reunited by two wars waged against a common foe in which they fought side by side, it is held that distinctions should not be made in such a matter. Still there is an embarrassment in a proposition to commemorate as a national hero any person who sought to dismember this union and was prevented only by the arbitrament of battle.

Some information concerning the forthcoming Republican national convention that may be commonplace may not be common knowledge. It will require 493 votes to nominate. Four hundred and nine uninstructed delegates have been chosen, which is considerably more than twice the number that have been instructed for several aspirants. Of the 183 delegates still to be chosen the chances are that a large majority of them will go uninstructed. It is therefore somewhat inconclusive to estimate the strength of an aspirant on the basis of his pledged delegates. But there will be an undeniable prestige in a solid enthusiastic following that has received orders as to the candidate which it shall favor.

Cabinet members may take a tip from the Secretary of the Navy and perfect themselves in the manner of saying "Aye, aye, sir."

NOTES and COMMENT

Germany still retains 15,245 airplanes, which the Washington Post thinks is about one for every promise she has made to turn them over.

They have come to it at Butte. A notice has been posted at every mine host to the effect that no I. W. W. will be employed there. Such action, if unanimous, would relieve a condition that has caused a great deal of trouble to the industrial world.

President Wilbur has announced that Stanford University is finding its income inadequate, though its endowment amounts to thirty millions. H. C. L. has hit the institution particularly hard, as the professors' salaries very properly stood a lot of floating. High costs of learning is keeping pace with the high cost of living.

Azerbaijan is reported to be fighting Armenia. Gore may be spilled before the aggressors can be located by the allied patrol, for the signboards are not numerous that point the way to Azerbaijan.

A news story is to the effect that Seattle will lose a pay roll expenditure of ten millions if it fails to do what a shipbuilder demands. Something like the threats in former days to how towns would suffer if they did not comply with the demands of railroads. Such threats have lost their terrors and community assistance of corporations has become more a voluntary matter, as it should be.

Announcement is made that some of the fairs' furniture is to be sold in New York. It seems to be assumed that Americans will pay exorbitant prices for these trappings of former royalty. The assumption may be wrong, though you can't tell. The fad germs seems to be well aloft.

Gompers and Governor Allen of Kansas are to engage in debate on the merits of the Kansas Industrial court. The debate will occur on the 23rd in New York. It is expected to be quite an occasion, as both gentlemen are considerable hands to argue.

It might be too severe to say that Senator Hitchcock is wild-eyed in his accusations against those who would formally end the war with Germany, but it can be safely thought that he is somewhat rampaging.

Senator Thomas thinks that any attempt to get a plank in the Democratic platform made in the League of Nations the campaign issue in accordance with the President's letter will split the party. The President's campaign letters do seem to have such effect, for a fact.

The Richmond News tells of the genuine remedy: "Some medicine fakir is advertising 'A Remedy for Measles Disease.' Don't be fooled. No medicine cures it. The only remedy is to either pack it with concrete or with dynamite."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Postmaster L. W. Wood, who was appointed special agent of the census bureau to make the difficult enumeration of Table Rock township, made much of his way on snowshoes. Chicago's population of 887 must stand in thousands of official publications for the next ten years. While the percentage of increase, 136.6, shows Chicago to be one of the fastest growing cities in America, and the figure itself far surpasses that of any city in the upper Sacramento region, an additional 1279 of the several thousand dwelling just outside the present city limits would have placed us where we rightly belong—just over the 10,000 mark.—Chicago Enterprise.

GOVERNMENT LOSSES

That the last two months of government operation—January and February, 1920—were among the best months in point of volume of traffic handled and gross earnings made, and relatively the worst in point of net return earned, under government operation, is shown by an editorial in the current issue of the Railway Age.

"Complete statistics regarding the freight handled, the total earnings made and the expenses incurred by the railways in January and February, 1920, the last two months of government operation, are available," says the Railway Age. "The total business moved, because of conditions which on the whole were favorable, was much larger than it was in any preceding January and February in history. It is therefore worth while to compare the statistics of traffic, earnings and expenses for January and February, 1917, the last time when the railways were under private operation in these months, and the corresponding figures for January and February, 1920, the last two months when the railways were under government operation."

"The number of tons moved one mile in January and February, 1917, was 61,000,000,000. In the corresponding months of this year it was 67,470,000,000, an increase of 10 1/2 per cent. Total earnings in January and February, 1917, were $565,200,000. In the same months of this year they were $837,800,000, an increase of 47 1/2 per cent. In January and February, 1917, operating expenses were $423,000,000, while in the same months of this year they were $529,000,000, an increase of 26 per cent."

"The increase in operating expenses was so much larger relatively than the increase in earnings as to cause a heavy decline in net earnings. There were also some increases in taxes. The results of all these influences are strikingly reflected in net operating income, which is left after paying expenses, taxes and so on. The net operating income of the railways in January and February, 1917, under private operation was $108,551,000. In January and February, 1920, which marked the termination of government operation, the net operating income was only $1,100,000."

"The guaranteed standard return for January and February was $104,500,000. The net operating income actually earned was less than 1 per cent of this amount, the government's deficit in the two months being over $103,000,000. The guaranteed standard return for an entire year was $905,000,000. It will therefore be seen that if government operation had continued throughout 1920, and the net operating income earned had been relatively as small as it was in January and February, the deficit incurred would have been almost equal to the total guaranteed return."

"In spite of the coal strike, which began in November and ended in December, the gross earnings of the railways in the six months, September to February inclusive, were $2,775,000,000, or almost $165,000,000 more than they ever were before in any corresponding six months, and yet the net operating income was $277,000,000 less than the amount required to pay the guaranteed standard return for that period. These statistics seem a complete vindication of the contention the Railway Age repeatedly has made that as large an advance in rates would have been necessary under government operation to stop the incurring of a deficit as will be necessary under private operation to secure to the railway companies the net return provided for in the transportation act."

"Whether the increase in operating expenses under government operation was reasonable or not is beside the question. The fact is, that an enormous increase of expenses did occur under government operation, and that under either government or private operation it would have been impossible, without an advance of 25 or 30 per cent in rates, to make the railways self-supporting."

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

What Yeast Does When It Is Taken "to Clear the Blood"

By DR. LEONARD R. HENNINGSEN, A. M., M. D. (Josiah Hopkins University)

Your recollection of yeast is for the most part based perhaps upon your childhood's happy hours in the kitchen when mother made the dough for what was to be tomorrow's fresh bread. You remember yeast as a little square cake of cheese-like consistency. You know that it was put in the dough to make it "raise." A towel over the dough to keep it warm also seemed to have much to do with the operation.

This "raising" of the dough was in evidence next morning, when the heavy, tough, puttylike substance of the night before was now light, fluffy and puffed-up dough, and when baked became the delectable homemade bread we youngsters loved so much.

Later, perchance, a few of us reached the high school or college years, which brought up to the study of biology, living things and the minute forms of vegetable and animal life. Then we were indeed surprised to find our old childhood friend, the yeast cake, literally to be a living land of a myriad of microscopically small, egg-shaped, colorless bubbles with buds or smaller bubbles emerging from some of them. The yeast cake is nothing less nor more than a compressed bundle of millions of tiny, colorless yeast plants. Mushrooms and toadstools are blood cousins to these yeast plants. Bacteria, too, are nearly blood brothers. Bacteria, yeasts and molds are called "colorless, flowerless plants" by highbrow scholars and biological pundits. If you wish to see them under the microscope or their pictures in voluminous tomes, stop in at any good library or laboratory.

Much has been said about so-called "yeast cures" for boils, diabetes, skin diseases and intestinal disorders of one sort and another.

What yeasts really do is in brief, to make and excrete a digestive ferment or enzyme which has the power to make alcohol, to split up certain proteins and especially to devour, digest and simplify such carbohydrates as sugar.

In the beer and malt industries it did this, and very possibly to a small extent it may thus diminish a rich-blooded person's lymph and alimentary canals of sugars and starches. Practically, in clinical experiments there were no such failures as successes. Boils remained boils or returned, and diabetes appeared unchecked in any event.

In justice, however, to those who rush to fads, Dr. P. B. Hawk, Philadelphia, reports that forty out of forty-one victims of boils, acne and pimples were "cured" by the administration of these little living plants in half a cake doses three times a day before meals. The yeast was sometimes also applied directly to the carbuncle.

Your memories of fresh bread and yeast cakes henceforth will be different from your "old home" ones. Because you will see in the administration of these little living plants you are apt to look upon it charitably and even if its administration three times a day does not make your complexion beautiful, at least feel certain that it is harmless.

30 YEARS WEDDED, WIFE GETS DECREE

Mrs. Bertha A. Tenney, who charged her husband, Charles B. Tenney, after nearly 30 years of married life, with cruel treatment, has been granted an interlocutory decree in the court of Judge A. F. St. Sure.

Mrs. Tenney charged that because their children showed affection for the mother, Tenney ordered them to leave the home; that he refused to buy her anything, so that she was compelled to wear the children's underwear; that he accused her of insanity and tried to have her examined by a physician as to her mind and that he was an habitual liar. She said he had no affection for the children, refused to buy them Christmas presents and when their youngest baby was born refused to give her 35 cents for a remembrance.

The couple were married in April, 1892, and have six children, the eldest aged 26 and the youngest 6. Tenney, it was stated, earns $175 a month. Mrs. Tenney was granted alimony of $75 a month and the custody of the minor children. The family home was at 1159 Glendora street.

S. F. PRELATE IS RECEIVED BY POPE

ROME, May 15.—The Most Reverend Edward J. Hanna, archbishop of San Francisco, for the first time has been presented to Pope Benedict. The pontiff later received the Right Rev. John V. Cantwell, bishop of Los Angeles, who was presented by Monsignor Charles O'Hern, director of the American College.

To both the prelates the pontiff expressed his great interest in California. He spoke benevolently of the Italian colony in San Francisco to the archbishop.

Hanna was congratulated on his perfect knowledge of the Italian language, which the Pope said he spoke with foreign accent. The archbishop also was congratulated for the work of the executive committee of the American archbishops and bishops, over which Archbishop Hanna has presided since the meeting of the American episcopacy in September.

Pope Benedict said he was gratified to hear that Archbishop Hanna would remain in Rome until the beginning of June and urged the archbishop to return again and see him, declaring that despite the grave occupations of present days he desired to know more about his "beloved children" in San Francisco, to whom the apostolic benediction.

After the audience Archbishop Hanna expressed pleasure at the wide knowledge of the pope on American affairs and the great interest he displayed in everything that was happening in the United States.

CENSUS RECORD IS LAID TO AUTO

WASHINGTON, May 15.—All records for increases in population as reported in the 1920 census were broken today by two Detroit suburbs, Hamtramck and Highland Park, which since 1910 have increased 1266 and 1031 per cent respectively. Automobile factory workers bought the towns and today the census bureau reported a population of 48,815 for Hamtramck and 46,599 for Highland Park. Prior to 1920 Kenmore, Ohio, with an increase of 712 per cent, held this record for population growth.

Following census figures were given out today: Kalispell, Mont., 2147, increase 405 or 22 per cent; Waltham, Mass., 30,891, increase 2097 or 11.0 per cent; Dunmore, Pa., 20,950, increase 2635 or 15 per cent; Carbondale, Pa., 18,640, increase 1600 or 9.4 per cent; Beaver Falls, Pa., 12,892, increase 51 or 5 per cent; Westchester, Pa., 17,717, decrease 50 or 0.4 per cent; Old Forge, Pa., 12,237, increase 912 or 8.1 per cent; Dickinson City, Pa., 21,049, increase 1718 or 18.4 per cent; Oil-phant, Pa., 10,236, increase 1731 or 20.4 per cent; Wyandotte, Mich., 12,851, increase 4504 or 35.1 per cent; Hamtramck, Mich., 48,815, increase 46,056 or 126.0 per cent; Highland Park, Mich., 46,599, increase 42,479 or 1031.0 per cent; Hamtramck Township, Wayne county, Mich., 49,287, increase 42,165 or 85.6 per cent; Concord Township, Wayne county, Michigan, 22,811, increase 12,531 or 143.8 per cent.

'Gesturized Emotion,' Latest Dance Cult, To Be Interpreted by Berkeley Maidens

Innovation Comes From East and Is Full of Intricate and Difficult Steps.

BERKELEY, May 15.—New dance steps are being introduced by a group of talented high school and college girls of Berkeley which promise to delight followers of temperance.

In their latest dancing fantasies the Berkeley maidens claim to be under the influence of the "gesturized emotion" which is the latest dance craze.

No eastbay maid's dancing education will be really complete hereafter until she has measured the difficulties and delights of gesturized emotion. Here are three Berkeley high school maidens practicing its intricacies. Left to right, they are MISS CAROLINE MCCONNELL, MISS ELEANOR KITCHEN and MISS KATHRYN ANN SHATTUCK.

ahead of their sisters in the bay section. The craze which their dancing personified hailed from the east where Miss Katharine Edson, Russian ballet dancer has introduced it under the name of "gesturized emotion" a new form of art which almost transforms the steps of dancers into words. Miss Edson is scheduled to introduce her dance interpretations at the university summer session but will arrive to find them ahead of her.

Miss Dorothy Pring is the promoter of the innovation and presents it in a "dance musicale" next Friday evening in Wilking hall.

The girls who will perform are the Misses Caroline McConnell, Kathryn Ann Shattuck, Eleanor Kitchen, Elizabeth Lee and Katharine White. Among the smaller interpreters of the "gesturized emotion" in the bay section will be Roberta Duncan, Ruth Schneider, Elizabeth Shaw, Frances McConnell, Helen Segelhurst, Francis Gilman, Margaret Abbott, Frances Abbott, Martha Williams, Barbara Young.

Walter Wenzel, San Francisco pianist, will interpret the music for the dancers, all of whom will wear Greek costumes.

'Bluebeard' Fears Prisoners; Pleads for San Quentin

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—In mortal fear for his life, which fellow prisoners have repeatedly threatened, "Bluebeard" Joseph William, murderer and arch criminal of the age, is in a cell in the county jail today awaiting early departure for San Quentin penitentiary to begin serving the life sentence imposed for his crimes. He is being held in the hospital because hospital inmates protested against his presence there.

"Bluebeard" covers in his cell in what is termed the "boarders tank," pleading constantly that he be taken to San Quentin at once.

"I fear the worst," he said on one occasion. "If what the newspapers say is true about threats against my life here I'll never come out of this place alive. I wish to go to San Quentin at once."

It is likely he may be taken tonight, though the date for his departure is being kept secret to avoid gathering crowds. An identification will be attempted today, which, if successful, may save William from a murder not yet revealed in his "confession." Leo Lucas, who is living at Clearwater postoffice, told Sheriff Manning yesterday that he recognized in Bluebeard's picture a man who last April or May at Murco, Kern county, had a sick wife in his automobile.

Husband Was Truant, Says Wife in Court

Numerous alibis given by Walter H. Carlton to his wife to explain absence from home were false, according to Mrs. Helen Carlton in her suit for divorce. While they were in the office of a San Francisco attorney on December 10 to arrange a property settlement the wife says Carlton flew into a rage and said "I do not care and never did care for you. I am tired of married life and want my freedom."

Mrs. Carlton asks $75 a month for the support of herself and a son aged 2. They were married in Berkeley on December 5, 1910.

The "Sinn Fein Feis" to be held in Shellmound park tomorrow by the Ulster and Munster societies of California promises to set a new attendance mark for outdoor Irish affairs. The committee has arranged to accommodate more than 10,000 participants. Samuel M. Shortridge, chairman of the Ulster society of Belfast university, will speak. Gaelic singing and dancing specialties will be presented by the O'Growney class of children under the direction of Seamus Moriarty and Miss Nellie Gaul. Gaelic dancing competitions will be presented John Donohoe, president of the Ulster society, will be chairman.

DOCTOR HELD ON CRIMINAL CHARGE

Dr. James H. Thompson, Oakland physician, who has been before the courts many times on charges of performing criminal operations, was arrested last night by inspectors Thomas Gallagher and Thomas Wood on a charge of performing an illegal operation upon Mrs. Beatrice Snyder, 559 Eighteenth street.

Thompson is in the city prison without bail pending an investigation by the police into his recent activities. The police are also awaiting the result of the operation on Mrs. Snyder, who is at the Providence hospital.

The criminal operation is alleged by the police to have occurred Tuesday, and Mrs. Snyder was operated on again next day by a hospital surgeon in an effort to save her life. She was reported as being convalescent this morning.

Dr. Thompson denies that he performed the operation on Mrs. Snyder.

Bomb Hurts Several at German Meeting

BERLIN, May 14.—(By the Associated Press)—An unidentified man threw a hand grenade today into a hall at Ennsingen, near Stuttgart, where the Clerical party was holding a meeting in favor of the candidacy of former Vice-Chancellor Erzberger for the Reichstag. A few persons were struck by fragments and injured, but none seriously.

The grenade exploded with a deafening crash and filled the hall with smoke. Some of the fragments struck persons on the stage, among them Erzberger. A wild panic ensued.

Construction has been Commenced on Our Eighth Series of Ten Houses in

FRUITVALE VILLAS

The high serial number is an even 70 and this number of homes of this class would in itself be sufficient to establish a high-class community, and it has done so. But we have 117 lots, all large, sightly and well located, as yet untouched, which we expect to build over in due course. When our work here is finished we shall have established a community unequalled in its class in town, and have erected a monument to ourselves of which we shall have reason to feel justly proud.

At this stage of building the character of construction can be seen and we invite you to look over our work, whether or not you think of buying now. Call Oakland 4382 for appointment to be shown.

We have left a few houses of the preceding series, each one individual in treatment, both exterior and interior; constructed and finished in our usual careful and thorough manner. Many different types; 3 rooms and sleeping porch; 6 rooms; sleeping rooms and bath on mezzanine floor; some garages; in short a wide choice.

TANKER LAUNCHED IN ALAMEDA YARD

ALAMEDA, May 15.—With California champagne streaming from her prow, the Halo, a 10,000-ton tanker, slid from the ways of the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation at 10:15 o'clock this morning, with Mrs. J. F. Cushing of San Francisco acting as sponsor.

Delegates from the Foreign Trade convention in San Francisco attended the ceremonies. The Bethlehem Corporation band played "The Star Spangled Banner" as the vessel took the water.

The Halo has been under construction for the last six months. It is a sister ship of the Dunagannon and the Durango, both recently launched.

MAYOR TO ROLL FIRST BALL IN BOWLING MEET

Mayor John L. Davis spent a busy day today. And he will have a bad right arm tomorrow.

Bright and early this morning the Mayor repaired to a bowling alley handy to the city hall, laid aside his robes of state, spat in approved fashion on his hands and snipped into it.

The Mayor was a lone and grueling one, and his instructor had no pity. At the end of the session, however, the city's chief official was declared a passable hand with the bir ball.

All of which leads up to the fact that tonight the Mayor will hurl the first ball down the Maryland Bowling pavilion alleys in Seventeenth street, to formally open the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Bowling association.

VETERANS MAKE MEMORIAL PLANS

At a meeting of representatives of the various organizations of war veterans and their auxiliaries plans were completed yesterday afternoon for the Memorial Day exercises on May 30.

In the morning graves of departed heroes will be decorated in the Mountain View Cemetery and in the afternoon at the Evergreen cemetery in Melrose. Under the direction of the women of the U. S. R. a tribute will be paid to the nation's sailor dead who sleep in watery graves.

Plans have been made to hold exercises on Lake Merritt and to strew the water with flowers. This year there will be no parade of veterans but the trips to the cemeteries and to the lake will be made in autos.

Aviator Pickup Off to Meet Cliff Durant

Lieutenant C. V. Pickup, aviator, left Durant field this morning at 10:20 o'clock for Reno, Nev., where he will meet Cliff Durant when he arrives there tomorrow morning at 6:20 o'clock aboard the west-bound overland. Durant will leave the train at Reno and fly to Oakland with Pickup. Durant has been in the east on business.

CHILD, 3, HIT BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES

Injuries which a three-year-old Thomas Baird Jr. sustained when he was struck by an automobile driven by A. E. Enos of 3142 Fruitvale avenue, proved fatal, the child dying last evening at Providence Hospital. An inquest is to be held at once by Coroner Grant Miller to fix the blame, if any, for the child's death.

He was the son of Thomas Baird of Hopkins and Dimond streets. The accident happened Tuesday night on Hopkins street where the child was at play. His skull was fractured. From the Emergency Hospital he was removed to Providence where for a time, it was thought he might recover.

The police report shows that the accident, according to witnesses, could not have been avoided by Enos. As a matter of form, however, it was planned by the police to charge him of manslaughter against him today.

ST. MARY'S MEN GATHER TONIGHT

Graduates of St. Mary's College and their friends more than 1000 in number, from throughout the country, will gather tonight in the Palace Hotel in San Francisco for the annual reunion of the alumni association. Many Californians are among those who will attend.

The ball, according to Charles F. Hanson, head of the committee in charge, will be the latest gathering of members of the St. Mary's College Alumni Association ever held.

Brother Agnon, the college historian, who claims to know by name every graduate of the college since its founding, will be the head of the reunion committee. Brother Agnon is loved by the thousands of graduates of the college now scattered in all parts of the world. He has been a member of the faculty since the school was founded 86 years ago.

The final arrangements for the reunion were made by Brother Agnon, Brother Timothy, Brother Charles D. McGottigan, Col. John L. Fling, W. Fitzgerald, Brother Agnon and Brother Timothy.

The Emporium

and now after weeks, yes months,
the moment arrives—

the 24th Birthday sales open Monday

The doors close tonight to open at 9 o'clock Monday morning on the greatest series of sales ever planned in these 24 years of learning how.

Close on to five pages in Sunday's papers don't commence to do justice to the offerings for the first day of the week's sales.

This week with 6 busy business days, plans to sell $1,000,000 worth of merchandise at tremendous savings. No need of argument, prices are the best we know and they await you.

so then 'till Monday,

WE BID YOU WELCOME!
